

Abarth unleashes the 600e

Until now, Abarth and family-friendly didn't really go together. This is now changing with the 600e. At the same time, the almost 4.20-meter-long all-electric five-door model is the brand's most powerful production vehicle to date. The engine delivers 176 kW (240 hp). For the market launch, there is a special edition called Scorpionissima, limited to 1949 units and numbered consecutively. The number of units is a reference to the year the brand was founded. Among other things, the vehicle features a mechanical limited slip differential and specially developed tires as well as a roof edge spoiler. (aum)
