
The Skoda Fabia is a five-time millionaire

The five millionth Fabia has rolled off the production line at Skoda's main plant in Mladá Boleslav. Launched in 1999, the model series was based on a new platform from the VW Group at the time and replaced the Felicia. The current, fourth model generation appeared four years ago. Due to its continued popularity and importance for the brand, Skoda has announced that it will continue to produce the Fabia beyond 2030. The Fabia is also an extremely successful rally car. (aum)
